IMPORTANT RULING

relative to the Manufacture and Sale
of Alleged Medicinal Alcoholic Compounds.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue Capers has a decision relative to the re and sale of alleged medicinal compounds, where, on s, it is found that the said al-medicinal compounds are suit-
for use as beverage.

oming up an elaborate opinion,
Commissioner holds as follows:
at a special tax is required for manufacture and sale of "alleged medicinal alcoholic compounds, or the sale of malt extracts manured from fermented liquors, the is used in the manufacture of ch are not sufficient in amount or character to render the product unfit for use as a beverage; or in the case of cordials, extracts and essences in which the amount of alcohol is greater than is necessary to preserve the ingredients or to extract the properties or cut the oils and hold same in solution.

"Manufacturers of alcoholic medical compounds, malt extracts, flavor-extracts, essences and soda groups, who wish to avoid lia-or special taxes must satisfy selves that their products are the limits herein defined; and those who put out alcoholic compounds of doubtful medicinal value, containing a questionable excess of alcohol, must do so at the risk of being required to pay special taxes for the manufacture and sale of the same."

THE CRITTENDEN FAMILY.

(Washington Herald.)

The destruction of the "Crittenden peace tree" in the Botanic Gardens, of which the venerable superintendent, Mr. Smith, is so fond, recalls one of the most historic names in our political history, all soldiers and statesmen of national repute.

George B. Crittenden, editor, born in Russellville, Ky., was a West Pointer in the Mexican War, resigned the United States army in 1861 and joined the fortunes of the Confederacy.

John J. Crittenden, statesman, a direct descendant of Thomas Jefferson,
was of the same Kentucky family.
For this famous statesman the tree is named, when he was in the Senate.
He favored the election of Bell and Everett in 1860. He was opposed to secession, and was for peace.

Robert Crittenden, of the same famly in Kentucky, a son of John J.
Crittenden, became acting Governor of Arkansas; afterwards fought a duel,
in which he killed his opponent, Mr.
Conway, in 1867.

Thomas L. Crittenden, another son of John J. Crittenden, became a famous officer in the Union army, while his brother was in the Confederate army.

Gen. Thomas L. Crittenden, U. S.
A., was promoted for gallantry at the battle of Shiloh. His son, J. J. Crittenden, was at West Point, 1873 to 1876, and, as lieutenant, accompanied Gen. Custer, and shared the same fate in the Sioux fight on Little Big Horn.

Thomas Theodore Crittenden, a grandson of the famous Kentucky statesman, became a colonel in the Union army, afterward Governor of Missouri, elected by the largest Democratic majority ever cast in the State (1881). He was instrumental in the pursuit and capture of the notorious James gang. He was appointed by President Cleveland Consul General at Mexico, 1893.

The above interesting clipping is in error in one or two points. Gen. Geo.
B. Crittenden was the oldest son of Hon. John Jordan Crittenden, who is mentioned in the third paragraph.

Thos. Theodore Crittenden, who is ex-Governor of Missouri, is a nephew of Hon. John J. Crittenden.

Col. Eugene W. Crittenden, late of the U. S. Army, was also a son of Gov. J. J. Crittenden. He was the father of Mrs. J. Swigert Taylor, of this city.

OLDEST MASONIC HALL.

The following from the Virginia
Masonic Journal, is from the address of Deputy Grand Master J. W.
Eggleston, at the re-opening of the hall of Richmond-Randolph Lodge
No. 19, claimed to be the first hall
erected in America for Masonic use, and which was nearly destroyed by fire December 11, 1906;

To enjoy the high privilege of meeting here, in this renowned and venerable building, is a boon to any Mason whose heart still beats with love for the oldest and most honorable of human institutions. Truly the place whereon we stand is holy ground. Think of it! This building was the very first erected in all America for Masonic use. Virginia led in this as she has done in all good works for three hundred years
and more.

Of this Masonic hall there are today perhaps ten thousands successors, but not one predecessor. This building was occupied for many years
by the oldest of all existing Grand Lodges in America. No Masonic historian pretends to dispute that Virginia Masons were the first in all our broad land to organize a Grand Lodge,
based solely on the will of the majority of the lodges, and as the successors of no preceding grand body. Today, that is the fixed rule the wide world over.

Great wars have raged around this hall; armies have tramped by its doors; the roar of battle has been heard in its close proximity; fires, great and small, have threatened its existence, but thanks to the Masons'
God, it still stands.

Within these walls have met, for a hundred and twenty-odd years,
members of the only organization known among men, civil, political or religious which always has, and which only can, rise above and lift its votaries above the evil passions of men.

Does any one dispute this high claim? I submit the proof.

In the very middle of the most dreadful and the most heroic of wars, at a time when the passions of men, women and children were wrought up by a contagious insanity
of hatred, when north hated south,
father and son, brother and brother were battling against each other to the death; when the very sermons and even prayers in churches, north and south, were almost profane denunciations of respective enemies.

Masonry alone stood calm, conservative and unmoved from its basic principle of love of God and fellow men.

At this very time, under a condition of public sentiment that only those of a generation now passing away can ever conceive, and which they can now only faintly remember, there was issued in Charleston, S. C., the very hot-bed of secession, a circular to the craft. The Grand Master, David Hamsey a soldier who lost his own life in a battle the following year, said to his brethren (I quote from memory, and only in part):

"Brethren, remember that you are bound by solemn vows, taken before Almighty God, to help, befriend and relieve your brethren, all and singular, wherever met, in darkness
or in light, armed or unarmed, friend or seeing foe, in battle, in prison or in escape. Remember that these ties existed before wars were, and will continue after they are forgotten.
As Masons, we should know not that there is war."

Turn this picture around. This circular somehow reached the State of Maine. What was the effect? It was ordered printed and hung on the walls of every lodge room in State.

But to come nearer home. V
after four long years of fearful when hundreds of thousands been slain in the struggle for t session of this devoted city, at fell. Left defenseless to the h swarming with ghouls who hidden away in its slums,

FARMER'S

COMMUNICATED.

Editor Frankfort Roundabout:

The purpose of this contribution is to clear and do justice to the memory of John T. Waters, Jr., who was ruthlessly shot down and instantly killed by Officer Davis Harrod, of the Frankfort police force, on Tuesday night, just before the midnight hour.

The statements of the affair, as given in the Kentucky State Journal, in the two issues of that paper following the occurrence, were notoriously unfair and manifestly unjust, both to the memory of the murdered boy and his surviving relatives and numerous friends. One would naturally infer, from reading the account of the killing, published in the paper referred to, that Officer Davis Harrod, in bringing about the death of the unfortunate young man, had performed a meritorious duty and had, in fact, removed from the walks of life a desperado, whose existence was a menace to the well being of the community in which he resided. Such, in brief, are the conclusions that would be arrived at by those who were unacquainted with the bare facts in the case after reading the garbled story that was printed in the State Journal.

This is not the first time, within the past two years or more, that this same State Journal has been notably unfair in dealing with happenings which concerned numerous people and families in Frankfort, and the offenses along this line have been such as to call forth the just condemnation of the public. In the details of passing events it has shown no regard whatever for the feelings of others. Mothers, sisters and brothers innumerable have been moved to anguish, time and again by the cruel course it has mapped out for its guidance, and no person was safe from its vindictive pursuit.

It has caused more heartaches among the people of Frankfort within the time mentioned, than all other causes combined, and has smoothed over wrongdoings, on the part of its favorites, to an extent that has become almost unbearable to the public at large. In many other ways besides, it has trod upon and maddened the citizens of Frankfort until the limit of endurance has almost been reached. These statements none will have the hardihood to deny.

But its account of the killing of John T. Waters, Jr., caps the climax. This was so hedged about with mis-statements and favoritism as to even fill with disgust its best friends and to call forth on all sides a storm of indignation at this latest illustration of its perfidy, and the savage partisanship in which it has ever indulged in dealing with local affairs.

The true facts in regard to the killing of the young man, the clearance of whose memory has actuated the writer of these lines, are these: John T. Waters, who was known to most of the people of Frankfort and universally belied, was not a desperado or a criminal. He was of a gentle and kindly disposition, and was never known to harm any one. He was as tender as a woman, and knew not the meaning of crime, in so far as he was concerned. No enemies dogged his unassuming path in life, and it would prove an extremely difficult matter to find a person, among the many thousands who go to make up the population of his home town, who would state that he had ever done them an injury. He had his failings, of course (and which of us has not), but they were inconsequential and harmed no one. The idea that he ever carried a pistol with the intention of committing a crime will not be believed by those who knew him, and the statement as made in the State Journal that he attempted to draw such a weapon on Officer Davis Harrod is equally as preposterous. It is true an empty revolver was taken from his pocket as he lay dead in the street, but his possession of that weapon bears an explanation that can throw no blame upon him. He took the pistol from an indiscreet friend, who was drinking, and who in all probability fired the shots that called forth such drastic and unwarrantable measures on the part of Officer Davis Harrod, and which led to the untimely death of the unfortunate young man.

He was on his way to his home, scarce 200 feet distant, when he was peremptorily ordered to halt and throw up his hands by the officer. Naturally he did not wish to be arrested, with a pistol in his possession, as he had never been known to carry one. He disobeyed, accordingly, the command of the minion of the law, and ran in his effort to escape. As a rash and uncalled for answer to that action on his part he was deliberately fired on twice by the officer, who, when the first charge failed to bring down the quarry had recourse to a second, the result of which bore the cruel bullet through the boy's heart, causing instantaneous death and precipitating him to the roadway, where he lay in a grotesque attitude an inert mass. He was shot squarely in the back as he ran, and the studied effort of the Journal to explain that the position he assumed in endeavoring to draw a weapon threw his body in the proper attitude for the reception of the wound in the place indicated, is assured on its face, and incredible of believed by any sane person.

All statements relating to the unfortunate affair go to show that the place the boy was traversing was shrouded in darkness, so much so that his form was scarcely discernable and his identity was unknown. How, then, could a slight movement of one arm, as if to draw a weapon, be detected by the eagle eye of the sleuth? Impossible!

John T., as his relatives and friends called him, had committed no crime to call for his execution at the hands of an officer of the law. Such a thing was absolutely foreign to his nature.

The writer of this article could enter into other details and dwell on other matters that would go to show the utter lack of cause for the terrible deed. But it is unnecessary, as public opinion, nearly always in the right, will easily, from what has been written, clear the memory of John T. Waters. His relatives are all good, law-abiding citizens; his mother and sisters are respected and esteemed as much so as any woman in the community, and the effort of the Journal to show the dead boy up in a questionable light will go for naught. It was hard on his people, though, while they were gathered around his bier, environed as it was, by the loving testimonials of his friends, and the friends of his family, in the shape of innumerable fragrant blossoms and roses, to read in the State Journal that his slayer was at that moment receiving the congratulations of the public for the brave manner in which he had performed his duty, and, as the paper intimated, rid the community of a monster in human shape. That a publication, which claims to be a respectable one should so distort the facts and so clumsily endeavor to create such a false impression, is almost inconceivable of belief. But it made a stagger at the effort to hoodwink the public in the shameful manner indicated. And more's the pity.

The poor boy cut down in the prime of young manhood, is now sleeping peacefully beneath the green verdure that covers so many of Frankfort's dear ones, and there is no doubt but that his spirit, released so suddenly from its earthly abode, has found its proper sphere in the home of the blest. In concluding this article the writer, speaking for himself and the other relatives of the dead boy, desire, to state that no person enmity is felt towards Officer Davis Harrod, for they are convinced that had he known who it was he would have suffered the loss of almost anything dear, rather than kill the son of his neighbor, and the neighbor of his wife and finally they are convinced that he regrets the happening very much, and will continue to regret it through life. He simply allowed his temper to get the best of his judgment. But there should be no place on the police force of the city for a man who can not control his temper. The people have some rights that should be respected, and are not to be shot down without cause in free America as is the practice in Russia, or other corrupt countries. Such a course naturally breeds anarchy, revolution and all the other kindred evils that follow in its train. The existing conditions for the conservation of the peace are not the best in Frankfort just now. Crime is rampant, and the city is plentifully besprinkled with thieves, thugs and would-be desperadoes. The situation has grown to be well nigh intolerable, and a readjustment is not only expedient, but necessarily inevitable.

BUREAU TRIP.

en's Club Goes To Versailles and Lexington.

Opening of the Traction line to Versailles was by an excursion by the Club, of this city, to Woodford county, to Lexington, on Monday, by the Second Regiment Club marched down Main street to the store of Mr. John H. Secretary of the Club, to meet, in St. Clair to Broadway to Ann, and up Ann Street, in front of the hotel, where two of the big Traction Company were about 100 members of the Club.

Left about 9:30, reaching Versailles in a little less than an hour. The Club marched down Versailles, and out Rose Street, and then to the court-house where an address of welcome, brisk and breezy, was delivered by Hon. W. O. Davis, of Versailles. The address was responded to by President Geo. B. Harper, who introduced Rev. C. R. Hudson, of the Club, who delighted the crowd with a crisp and merry little talk. All of the addresses were brief but greatly enjoyed.

The Club (reinforced by a delegation from the Versailles Commercial Club) then re-embarked on the cars and hied themselves away to the "Athens of the West."

Reaching the corner of Main and Broadway, in Lexington, the crowd left the cars, and, headed by the band, marched to the front of the court-house, where Congressman W. P. Kimball delivered a happy and eloquent address of welcome.

President Harper designated Mr. Jas. T. Buford to respond, who did so in a well chosen but brief address.

The Club was then furnished badges of admission to the trotting races. When the grounds were reached the Club again marched to the front of the grand stand and were formally dismissed, a grand rush being made by the hungry crowd for the lunch stand where refreshments for the inner man were served to satiety.

The trotting races were then closely observed and enjoyed until time for the return trip.

The crowd embarked on the cars at Anglin Avenue at 5 o'clock and reached home about 7 p. m., having enjoyed a delightful outing, as the day was every thing that could be desired.

Every one who went expressed themselves as surprised at the smoothness and excellence of the Traction Line between the places visited, and "shook hands with themselves" over the successful issue of this long desired event.

The Club were warm in expressions of gratitude to Superintendent John D. Sallee, of the Traction Line, who accompanied the excursion, and who left nothing undone to minister to the pleasures of the trip.

He is a whole team all by himself. "Here's lookin' at yer, Colonel."

MAN KILLED BY C. & O. TRAIN.

On Tuesday evening, about eight o'clock, at the C. & O. train, bound west, was passing up Broadway street, a young man by the name of Sidney Williamson, who formerly lived near "Bald Knob," this county, attempted to board the train to ride "blind baggage" to Lexington, missed his footing and was crushed to death under the wheels. Portions of the body were found scattered along up the street all the way to the entrance to the tunnel. The first that any one knew of the terrible accident was when a colored man, who lives above the tunnel, started home through the tunnel, when he was horrified to find the man's head, body, one arm and one leg lying in the center of the track. He hurried back to the depot and notified the railroad men, who followed back the track picking up portions of the body until opposite the south end of Madison street, where they discovered evidences of the man's first attempt to board the train.

Young Williamson had been drinking in the saloon of Owen Moore, and stated that he was going to Lexington on the C. & O. train, but, strange to say, although the street was full of people, no one saw him when he made the rash attempt.

Coroner Graham was summoned and took the remains to his undertaking establishment in the death basket.

A singular fatality has followed this family. He father was shot and killed at the corner of Main and St. Clair street, county court day, a number of years since; another brother was killed in a saloon, by the barkeeper; still another brother was burned to death in a hotel; and another is now in the Eastern Lunatic Asylum. His mother and two sisters are all that remain. They reside in this city.

The sympathy of every body goes out to these terribly afflicted people.

No blame could attach to the railroad people, as they did not know of the accident.

JOHN T. WATERS, JR., KILLED.

Officer H. Davis Harrod Shoots Young Man in the Discharge of His Duty.

Another killing is chalked up against this city under particularly sad circumstances. On Tuesday night, about 11 o'clock, two shots rang out at the north end of St. Clair and Hill streets. Officer H. Davis Harrod had just returned home, after a visit to his kinswoman, Mrs. Jere Williamson, where he went to give what comfort he could to the lady whose son had been killed by the C. & O. train. Hearing the shots he immediately went to the place, against the protests of his wife. Seeing two men skulking along the street in the darkness, in a stooping posture, he called to them to know what was the trouble. Receiving no reply, he again commanded the men to stop and throw up their hands, telling them he was an officer of the law. One of them disappeared as totally as if the ground had swallowed him up. The other came towards the officer, seemingly attempting to draw his pistol. Three times was he ordered to halt and throw up his hands. Failing to obey, Officer Harrod fired two shots at him, only one of which took effect, and passed through the body, killing him at once. Upon investigation the man was found to be John T. Waters, Jr. Officer Harrod at once notified Chief of Police Mangan, who came to the scene accompanied by Judge J. H. Polsgrove and others of the police force. Coroner Graham was notified and took the remains to the home of the young man, whose parents lived near by.

Upon the body was found a 38 caliber revolver and a pocket knife. This is a very sad affair in all its aspects. Officer Harrod was a friend of the family of his victim and was horrified to find that the young man killed in the discharge of his duty was his young friend.

THE PURPOSE.

My Dear Sir:— The purpose of this letter is to ask your co-operation in a matter of great importance to everyone who is opposed to the annihilation of our native quadrupeds, birds and fishes. The time has come when nothing short of a universal movement for the protection of our wild creatures will save them from total extermination.

Never before were the agencies of destruction so numerous as now. Never before were they so widely distributed, and never before were they so effective for slaughter. A careful inquiry recently made by the New York Zoological Society, reveals the startling fact that throughout 30 States and Territories the decrease in the volume of bird life during the last fifteen years has reached an average of 46 per cent. The decrease in number of edible birds—upland game birds, waterfowl, shore birds and pigeons—has never been even greater than that; and a number of our finest species are now approaching practical extinction. Worse than all this, many of our song birds are being killed for food.

The League of American Sportsmen was organized for the purpose of creating, in every State, Territory and county, a well organized standing army of protectors which shall:

- 1 Secure the enactment of more stringent general laws.
- 2 Which shall see that lawlessness is punished.
- 3 Which shall discourage game slaughter, and
- 4 Protect the wild creatures that still remain.

We now have working divisions in forty-six States and in four provinces of Canada our membership including eleven members of Congress the governors of several States, the presidents of several colleges many clergymen, judges of courts, lawyers, bankers, etc.

If you will inquire into the details of the plans of campaign, as set forth in the constitution and by-laws (and which will be sent you on application), we are sure they will meet your approval.

In order to make this movement effective, a large membership is effective. The league wants members every where, gathered in local organizations. Believing that the objects of the league will appeal to you, we urgently invite you to become a member.

There is no initiation fee, the annual dues of all moneys received are returned to the divisions in the State from whence the fund comes. Even if you are not now able to render active service, your dollar will help furnish the sinews of war to the game wardens who will be in a position to fight the game hogs.

Our interest in the preservation of our wild creatures is so great that your acceptance of this invitation would be regarded as a personal favor.

Yours truly,
LEAGUE OF AMERICAN SPORTSMEN.

REV. DR. HENRY M. WHARTON

Is Conducting the Services at First Baptist Church—Large Crowds Greet Him.

Rev. Dr. Henry M. Wharton, the able, tender and brilliant pastor evangelist, reached this city on Wednesday morning, and took charge of the meeting at the First Baptist Church that evening.

For the initial service a congregation that comfortably filled the large auditorium greeted him. This is rather an unusual occurrence, as it is generally the case that the audiences are small for the first evening or so after a meeting commences.

Dr. Wharton is a man of fine physique, with a musical and attractive voice. His sermons are short, practical and wondrously winning. He does not attempt anything sensational, only presenting the "old, old story" in its simplicity and power, and it truly becomes "the power of God unto salvation."

A few months over twenty years ago, this soldier of the Cross conducted a meeting in this church, when Rev. Dr. Geo. F. Bagby was the pastor, and it resulted in a magnificent ingathering of souls into the various churches of the city, a number of those converted becoming the most useful members of the church to which they attached themselves.

During this week the services will be held only at the evening hour, 7:30, but next week other services will be announced for which our readers are referred to our religious column.

Dr. Wharton's sermons are all catholic in their scope, his purpose being to win souls, not to stir up controversy, and yet he does not "shun to declare the whole counsel of God."

All Christians are invited to attend and their earnest prayers invoked for the Divine blessing, but the unconverted are especially invited to be present.

Comfortable accommodations will be afforded all who attend in the big church and chapel.

"OLD MAIDS' CONVENTION."

One of the most thoroughly enjoyable entertainments of the season was that given by the ladies of The King's Daughters Circle, denominated the "Old Maids' Convention," on Tuesday evening.

It was simply fine from start to finish, and was witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the Opera House.

The whole affair was well managed and well executed, the greater part of the performance being as well staged and acted as could have been done by "all professionals."

We rejoice to learn that a very substantial sum was realized to aid in building the extension of the King's Daughters Hospital, now so urgently demanded. This institution is a splendid success, and the only wonder is how the city ever got along without it in the past.

WATHEN-TOLIN—At the Church of the Good Shepherd, on Wednesday morning, Mr. R. N. Wathen, of Lebanon, and Miss Grace Tobin, daughter of the late Dr. Hugh L. Tobin, were married by Rev. Father Thos. S. Major.

Mr. Wathen is a hustling young business man, who has made a success in all his ventures. He numbers his friends by his acquaintance. His bride is one of the prettiest, sweetest and most attractive girls ever reared in this home of pretty women. She graduated with honor from the Frankfort High School only a couple of years since, and is held in the highest esteem by her teachers for her studious and intellectual qualities and general amiability of character.

The church was beautifully decorated by the young friends of this attractive girl, and their pride in her was tempered by the sadness that came when she departed for her new home and duties.

The solemn nuptial mass of the church was impressively performed after the couple had taken the marriage vows.

The heartiest congratulations attend them as they go to face life's duties.

A very large crowd of friends attended the marriage.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason mothers and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

PUBLIC LIBRARY TO BE STARTED BY WOMAN'S CLUB.

Committees from the Woman's Club are now soliciting subscriptions of $1 or more to start a Public Circulating Library in Frankfort. Their plan is to collect funds and books during this fall and winter and to open the library in one of the rooms of the new McClure building in April or May.

Books will probably be rented to non-subscribers for a small sum, but it is hoped and urged that all public spirited citizens, of both town and county, will give to this good object and become regular subscribers.

Many towns in the State of less size and importance than Frankfort have public libraries, and the club members believe, and they will persist in the belief, that we need a library that it will be a help to the town in many ways, and that Kentucky's capital shall not be behind in this particular respect.

The club library of 150 excellent volumes will be placed in the public library, and will form a good nucleus on which to build.

If you wish to help the library with either funds or books; please communicate with any one of the following ladies, the special library committee: Mrs. C. R. Hudson, Miss S. B. South, Miss S. W. Smith, Mrs. A. H. McClure, Miss L. Lindsey.

It is hoped that former Frankfort citizens who see this notice will be interested in the library, and the committee would greatly appreciate any substantial evidence of such interest.

..DEATHS..

MERCHANT—In this city on Thursday night, the infant daughter of Mr. Luke Merchant and wife, aged fourteen months.

He leaves a wife, four daughters and three sons to mourn his death.

The funeral services were conducted from the family residence, near Benson Station, on Thursday morning, by Rev. John H. Burdin, and the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground.

The funeral services will be conducted from Mr. Scott's residence this morning, at 9:30 a. m., by Rev. A. Paul Bagby, and the remains will be interred in the family lot in our cemetery.

LAID TO REST.

The remains of the two young men, who met such awful deaths, on Tuesday night, were laid to rest on Thursday.

Mr. Sidney Williamson's remains were taken to his old home at Polsgrove and buried in the family burying ground.

Mr. John T. Waters, Jr.'s, remains after funeral services at the Church of the Good Shepherd, were laid away in the Catholic Cemetery. "This is the end of all the earth."

TO THE PUBLIC

For several months past, owing to protracted poor health, we were contemplating closing out, or selling out our business; but, having recovered to some extent from the depression, and further given such unstinted cheer and encouragement from you by your liberal patronage, during the time we were unable to give you any personal attention, we feel that it would be doing violence to you individually and collectively if we failed to make one more heroic effort to serve you. Therefore, we have determined to make a change, which we trust will be mutually advantageous, and, in order to accomplish this, we find it imperative to cut out the retail department in a small way, yet continue to reach you in the bulk or original package form, thereby making a great saving to us, which will be distributed to you in giving lower prices.

Ever grateful for the many favors extended and trusting that you will look upon this change with favor, we remain,
Sincerely yours,

JOHN DRISCOLL

THE LEADING GROCER,

216 St. Clair Street, - Frankfort, Ky.

Thomas A. Edison, the great American inventor, says: "Fully eighty per cent. of the illness of mankind comes from eating improper food or too much food; people are inclined to over-indulge themselves." This is where indigestion finds its beginning in nearly every case. The stomach can do just so much work and no more, and when you overload it, or when you eat the wrong kind of food the digestive organs can not possibly do the work demanded of them. It is at such times that the stomach needs help; it demands help, and also warns you by headaches, belching, sour stomach, nausea and indigestion. You should attend to this at once by taking something that will actually do the work for the stomach. Kodol will do this. It is a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. It is pleasant to take. It digests what you eat. Sold by South & Co.

INCORPORATED

MISSIONARY ADDRESS.

Mrs. N. E. Ertzinger, of Rio, Brazil, the wife and helper of a Baptist minister, who is a missionary in that city, gave a most interesting and instructive address upon missions in the First Baptist Church, on Monday afternoon, to an interested congregation of ladies.

Those present greatly enjoyed the address, and a deeper interest was aroused in mission work.

"The Blood is 'The Life'."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when applied to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constituent of treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate inviscerate stomach, liver and bowels.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Frankfort Citizen Finds The Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching. With distressing urinary disorders. Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you permanently.

Frankfort people endorse this claim:

Mrs. Kate Newkirk, of 113 Logan street, Frankfort, Ky., says: "It was sometimes very hard for me to perform my daily work on account of weakness across my loins and the aching I endured when stooping, or reaching forward for any object. The irregular action of the kidneys and the sensation of scalding which accompanied the secretions caused other symptoms which were very annoying and distressing. I doctored a great deal and besides used various remedies said to be good for kidney trouble, but I received little, if any, relief. Reading advertisements of Doan's Kidney Pills, which appeared in our newspapers, impressed me with their value, so concluding to try them I procured a box at J. W. Gayle's drug store. Their effect certainly surprised me, and I continued their use, taking the contents of the second box. They did for me far beyond my expectations, and I can certainly recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

ATTENTION, FARMERS!

Any farmer wishing to purchase a good Indiana farm, is referred to the ad. of Mr. J. B. Austin, Versailles, Ind.

OF INTEREST TO THE PEOPLE OF THIS COMMUNITY.

It is surprising the large number of cases of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble that the druggist has to deal with almost every day. Stomach trouble seems to be increasing right along from year to year amongst the American people, and in nearly every case carelessness in what they eat or how they eat is what brings on attacks of stomach disorders. There are perhaps more people today suffering from heart burn, sour stomach, bad breath, nausea, belching and other irregularities arising from indigestion than from any other ailment.

In this regard the Roundabout takes pleasure in recommending to our readers the well known remedy, Kodol, for dyspepsia and indigestion. Kodol is a scientific preparation. It is a combination of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices that are found in the stomach of a healthy person. It is undoubtedly the most effective, prompt and satisfactory remedy we know of for stomach disorders.

Messrs. South & Co., our popular druggists, have sent us a letter from a prominent resident of the State of Georgia, who tells his experience with Kodol. We gladly reproduce this letter.

Office of the Prison Commission
of Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., August 10, 1904.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:—"I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. My heart would beat so fast I could not sleep. At times I would almost draw double with pain in the pit of my stomach. I lost twenty-five pounds; in fact, I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and I was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited."

Very truly yours,
JAKE C. MOORE,
State Warden.

Heart Trouble Baffled Doctors.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

There is nothing more necessary to health than sleep and rest. If these are denied you, if you rise in the morning more tired than when you went to bed, there is an affection of the nerves plainly present. If your heart is that direction, your weakened nerves will soon so affect your heart's action as to bring on serious, chronic trouble. Dr. Miles' Nervine is a nerve tonic, which quiets the nerves, so that sleep may come, and it quickly restores the weakened nerves to health and strength. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is a great blood and heart tonic which regulates the action of the heart, enriches the blood and improves the circulation.

"Some time ago I was suffering severely with heart trouble. At times my heart would seemingly stop beating and at others it would beat loudly and very fast. Three or four hours sleep each night in ten months was all I could get. One week in last September I never closed my eyes. I got Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure at a drug store in Lawrenceburg, after spending $300.00 in medicines and doctors in Louisville, Shelbyville, Frankfort, Cincinnati and Lawrenceburg, and in three days have derived more benefit from the use of your remedies than I got from all the doctors and their medicines. I think everybody ought to know of the marvelous power contained in your remedies."
